How to invite People on your lock (with Mobile application) :

Only one account with administrator rights (the first account which created the place and registered the lock) is possible.

To invite new users on your lock with specific rights, they have to:

Create their own account, without creating a place: only mail adress + password + Mobile phone Number

Inform the administrator when account creation is OK, with the mail address used for creating the Elocky account.

As lock administrator, you are now able to invite from your own smartphone the users you want (indicating their email address): you decide to give them moderator rights (a moderator user can himself give user or moderator access rights to others), or simple user rights (= cannot invite other users on the lock). You then define which user rights you give : permanent recurrent or occasional
